The Blomfield family from Karori Walcha has been breeding their own rams for over 50 years and the stud was registered in 1995. This year we will be offering 42 superfine merino rams in our on- property auction sale 15th of February 2024.

The most notable feature of Karori sheep is their uniquely soft, bright white wools with exceptional character. Currently, our adult sheep average 15.7 μ and our hoggets average 14.4 μ . We continue to see a high demand for our ethically produced, RWS certified wool with a line of 14.1 μ hoggets fleece wool bringing 4010 cents and a 14.0 μ line making 4000 cents.

Our breeding objectives for Karori merinos are all about producing a robust animal with good fertility, a saleable carcass, excellent confirmation and sound foot structure, which is able to thrive in the New England environment.

USING KARORI GENETICS WILL GIVE YOU:

- Plain bodies (No mulesing for 17 years)
- Uniquely soft, white, crimped wools
66% of our 2022 drop rams are in the top 20% of higher for YFD asbv
- Excellent worm resistance
96% of our 2022 drop rams are negative for YWEC asbv
- Great staple strength
42% of our 2022 drop rams are in the top 20% or higher for YSS asbv
- Good fertility
- Good eye muscle and fat
- A sheep that can handle all environments including high rainfall.
- Very good confirmation and foot structure
